Excerpt: .you had not spoiled it, or that I had more money and fewer books. Send me often from Leipsic only the written words, Jean Paul Friedrich Richter, and I will practise magic with them. Denuo vale carissime! Carissime vale. We hear of the phlegmatic Germans! This letter was from a country pastor, advanced in years. Let us recall the words of the former letter, written just sixteen years before, when Paul, as a poor student, was setting out on foot for Leipsic: Excellent young German! from whom in the future I promise the world so much. Fulfil this prophecy I If they both remembered the letter, how well seemed the prophecy fulfilled! Richter and Otto, although living in the same city, had written to each other every day. They would not trust themselves with a parting interview, and Richter s last letter to his friend is most touchingly tender. It closes thus: -- My last word to you is, be courageous! Strive with manly power against sickly fantasies, and enter, as I do, always more courageously into active life, that your talents may be more useful to others, and thus to yourself. With this wish, with these hopes, my infinitely dear friend, I close my youth s time, and we part silently from each other. If man can bear an eternity in his heart, you will remain eternally in mine. Say this also to your dear brother and sister. I will not seek such a...
