Language: English Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Delilah of Harlem: A Story of the New York City of to-Day No, old boy! The whole thing is a bore! I am tired of New York! cried Ralph Burnham, carefully selecting a cigar from the box of Excepcionales. In a cosey private room of the Brunswick, two men, old college chums, were seated at a table covered with the debris of a bachelor dinner. It was the genial summer time of 1889. The flickering lights on the avenue lit up gay groups hurrying to cafe and theatre. Burnham, tall, dark, and thirty-four, was the type of your uneasy New Yorker, who chafes daily at the sameness of life in the one spot on earth dear above all others. Walter Maxwell, critic, author, and globe trotter, (blonde and thirty-two,) leaned back in his chair, curiously eying Burnham. Slowly knocking the ash from his cigarette, he pushed Burnham a petit verre. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
