Without life there could be no achievement, no consciousness, no improveableness. Inheritance, association, ministry, enjoyment would be alike impossible. Everything would be sterile, unresponsive and without initiative. Without education there would be no development. Everything would remain in statu quo, or deteriorate. The term education from the Latin educere, to draw out, designates the process or result of drawing out, training or developing the faculties or elements of the individual. We cannot think of any form of derived life without associating the idea of education with it. Life always manifests itself by a series of co-ordinated actions and reactions through which it is maintained and more or less modified. Every form of derived life must live, if at all, within conditions...
